

Shrine Club To Hold Charter Party Tomorrow

Charter night party of the recently formed El Toga Shrine Club will be held tomorrow evening at the Western Club Cafe, 1516 S. Western Ave., beginning at 7, according to Al Gianni, president of the club.

El Toga, comprised of nobles from Torrance and Gardena, (hence the name Toga), is the newest club of Al Malakiah Temple.

Al Malakiah Potentate Charles Reichert, sales manager of the National Supply Co., will be on hand with his Divan to oversee the installation.

To take office are Gianni, president; Mickey Elissa, first vice president; Lt. Col. David Knapp, second vice president; J. H. G. Sherfy, treasurer; Charles P. McCann, secretary; and James McMillan, potentate's ambassador.

All shrine clubs of Southern California will be represented by their officers, who will be presented with honorary membership cards of the local club Gianni said.

Features of the evening will be a steak dinner, floor show, music, and entertainment by the Shrine Sextette.

Sherfy, of 1221 Engracia Ave. has charge of the ticket sale for the affair, Gianni said.

New Salvation Army Commander in Southern

Lt. Colonel George S. Johnston of Seattle, divisional commander of the Salvation Army in Washington, Idaho and Montana will return to the same headquarters where he started his Salvation Army career, a Southern California's new divisional commander Oct. 1, to receive a warm welcome from civic, religious and Salvationist representatives.

Johnstone will succeed Lt. Col. Russell E. Clarke, whose retirement from active service was announced recently. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Johnstone.
